14.30:14-35 Intro Eco-phonics: (5 minutes)

Clara Balaquer: Eco-phonics is a process of deep listing, gather up, process, respond, and react to the several strands, attitudes, and ideas proposed over the previous minutes, hours, and days. These annotations are an offering to process, be present, and move into a phase of repose, and then repositioning.

14.35:14.40 intro workshop rules (5 minutes)

Rotating introduction (60 minutes)

In pairs take 3x 3 minutes each to answer these questions about your practice in relation to this group? : (what are you bringing with you as practice? Why are you here, what are your desired learnings? Where are you going with the practice in relation to this group? /how would you want to build forward?

Take notes from what your conversation partner tells you. Than in the next round... you tell the story of your first conversation partner to the next and they do the same (telling you about the former conversation partner). Than switch again. And after 2nd iteration present out to the group.
